"THE ALASKAN" PRESENTED;
OTHER SUCCESSES COMING

Big Musical Company Departs After Pleasing Two Big Audiences Here—"Graustark," "A Stubborn Cinderella" and Others of Prominence Booked for Remaining Months of the Season.

"The Alaskan" company left today for Ishpeming, after a two night's engagement at the Kerredge theatre, at which there were two large audiences that gave every evidence of approval of the music, singing and novel effects of the production. The team of genuine Eskimo dogs gave a decidedly arctic atmosphere to the production, and made a big hit, and the snowballing scene in which the audience and chorus girls participated was a novelty that took greatly.

This evening Thomas C. Trueblood, of the University of Michigan, will give a recital of "Ingomar, the Barbarian," in the Star entertainment course of the Grace M. E. church, and on Monday next the popular Frank E. Long company will open for a week's run with a repertory of popular dramas and comedies.

Manager Kerredge has announced a partial list of bookings for the remaining months of the season, which comprises some of the most successful metropolitan productions, presented by splendid companies headed by stars of prominence.

The December bookings, in addition to the Long stock company, together with the dates on which they will be presented, are as follows: "Graustark," December 11; Yankee Doodle Stock company, week of December 13; "A Stubborn Cinderella," December 22; Hortense Neilson, in "Magda," on December 25, and the month will close with the appearance of the musical club of the University of Michigan on December 29.

"The Climax" will be the first play of the New Year and will be presented on New Year's day. "The Thief" comes on January 11, and "The Winning Miss" January 31.

February attractions so far booked are "Paid in Full," which comes to the Kerredge on the 5th, and "The Man of the Hour" on February 28.

Lyman H. Howe's moving pictures play a return engagement on March 1 and 2, and the great western drama, William Vaughn Moody's "The Great Divide," will be seen again in this city on March 5. "The Time, the Place and the Girl" is booked for March 11 and "The Wolf" on March 18.

April's opening attraction is Hal Reid's always popular "Human Hearts," on April 1; Grace Von Staudford in "The Golden Butterfly" is coming on April 11; "Polly of the Circus," April 15; Al Wilson, April 16, and "The Third Degree," April 27.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company, the last that is still presenting this famous drama of anti-slavery days, plays here May 7; and Blanche Walsh will be seen in "The Test," on May 14. This concludes the dramatic attractions, but the closing event of the season, and the crowning feature of the theatrical year will be the appearance in Hancock of Madam Schumann-Heine, in a program of operatic and concert selections on Memorial Day, May 30.

D'URBANO'S ITALIAN BAND
COMING AGAIN IN APRIL

Leonard Meola of this city has received a letter from Luigi D'Urbano, leader of the great Italian band that visited this city for a week recently, in which it is stated that the management of the band has decided to play a return engagement in this section. The organization will come sometime in April and will appear in Hancock and Calumet, besides again playing in the iron country. At present the band is in Wisconsin. Since the visit here of the band a couple of months ago many who heard them then have expressed a hope that they would return, the music given being splendid and the organization proving one of the best of the kind that has ever been heard here, while Signor D'Urbano's conducting was something wonderful. The announcement that the band is coming back will be welcomed.

The nomination of officers of the Hancock lodge of the Knights of Pythias will take place this evening at the regular weekly meeting, and the annual election will be held on Friday evening next. Following the election a social session and smoker will be enjoyed and a special committee is now engaged in preparing for the occasion.

A two-man bowling match took place last night between Charles Dover and Eldred Mitchell. The scores were: Dover 294, 178, 196, and those of Mitchell 159, 148, 155. Total, 1060.

Charles F. McAskill arrived home yesterday from Indianapolis to spend Thanksgiving day at his home here, and to see his baby daughter, who arrived on Wednesday.

ALCOHOL IN MEDICINES.
Alcohol is the best known preservative of medical compounds, and the average proprietary medicine contains from 15 per cent to 22 per cent, which is the smallest possible amount to preserve the ingredients, while the average doctor's prescription contains from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Such standard preparations as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contain but 18 per cent and they even put the Compound up in tablet form, which the over-scrupulous woman, who objects to alcohol in any degree, may use.

A. O. H.—ELKS GAME WILL BE A BATTLE OF GIANTS

Contest to Take Place This Evening Between Hibernians and Elks Will Be a Battle Royal Between Two of the Strongest Teams of the League—Naval Reserves and Eagles Also Play.

One of the best and most fiercely contested games of the present season of the indoor baseball league is what the game to be played this evening in the Germania hall between the Hibernian and Elks teams is expected to prove. The two teams are the season's leaders so far in the championship fight and the keenest rivalry exists between them, each being desirous of landing the season's pennant. The Hibernians are anxious to retain the honor of standing first, won so triumphantly last year, while the antlered ball swatters are equally desirous of defeating the boys in green. Each team has so far won four games and has not sustained a single defeat.

Carney and Stack, the crack battery of the Hibernians will officiate for the team tonight and the equally famous Ross-Montgomery pitching and catching duo will take care of the spheroid for the Elks. Carney has done wonderful work for the Hibernians in the matches so far played, having been scored on only thirteen times, while Ross has only allowed fifteen runs so far in the games played.

No arrangements have yet been made for a game with Newt Randall's team, and from present indications it looks as though there would be nothing doing.

The Eagles team has been invited to Ontonagon to play the indoor baseball team organized there recently. The Ontonagon team will stand all the expenses of the Eagles and will arrange for their entertainment while they are at Ontonagon. If the game is played, and it is expected that it will be pulled off shortly, the Eagles will go on Sunday in order to go and return the same day.

MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY.

Knight of Columbus Will Hold Annual Services at St. Joseph's.

The annual memorial services of the Hancock council of the Knights of Columbus will be held on Sunday next at St. Joseph's church, where mass will be celebrated by Rev. Frederick Glusner at 10 o'clock. The members will meet in their lodge rooms in the Kauth block at half past 9 and will march to the church in a body. On Monday morning a requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the council.

Arrangements are being made for a social session to be held on the occasion of the election of officers of the Hancock council of the Knights of Columbus to be held on Monday evening, December 13.

PRAISE FOR THE YANTIC.

Lieutenant Myers Gives Out His Observations of the Cruise.

Lieut. Myers, United States navy, who was inspecting officer with the Michigan Naval Brigade on the cruise last summer, has made his report to the navy department. Commander Goodell of the upper peninsula battalion, M. N. B., has received a copy of the report, from which extracts are here made. Lieut. Myers says of his inspection of the Yantic:

"I inspected the Yantic and found her condition to be excellent in regard to cleanliness and neatness. The ship had been painted preparatory to making the cruise and not only looks well but is clean throughout. Most of the cleaning and painting was done by the Hancock division of the naval militia under the direction of Chief Boat-swain's Mate F. Nelson, U. S. N., who is a good man for head skipper, being energetic and having proper ideas about cleanliness and general ship-shapeliness. He is to be commended on the good appearance of the ship. It is recommended that a carpenter's mate and painter be detailed for this ship in place of two seamen now on her."

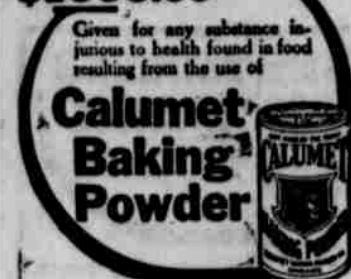

"In handling the ship in coming to anchor, in squadron, in going alongside of a dock, and in navigating through difficult and narrow channels the following officers are very proficient: Lieutenant Commander H. S. Goodell, commanding; Lieut. A. P. Rees, navigator; Lieut. C. D. Mason and Lieut. G. T. Stephenson. These officers all hold licenses as follows: No. 1, master; 2, second class pilot; 3, master; 4, pilot, first class. The engineer officers are very proficient in their duties. Lieut. Banks and Ensigns Macdonald and DeMass show great adaptability for this work and should become very proficient. It is their intention to take examinations for licenses. All officers show an intelligence and a willingness to learn, which is very encouraging for the future of the organization."

"If it were possible to do so, it would be of great advantage to have the officers and men serve their summer cruise on battleships of the North Atlantic fleet. But as the expense for this would probably be too great, it is suggested that the department send out circulars to the officers of the naval militia, indicating when they may take short cruises on ships of the North Atlantic fleet. Several officers have indicated a desire to take a short cruise on some man-of-war, but have no means of finding out in sufficient time to what ship they may go. If it were possible for the officers to take cruises as mentioned above, it would be of inestimable value to the naval militia organization."

DEATH OF MRS. HAMILL
FROM BLOOD POISONING

Mrs. T. R. Hamill, wife of a well known Hancock contractor, died last night at about 10 o'clock at her home on Superior street in West Hancock, from the effects of blood poisoning. Mrs. Hamill was a native of Canada and was 39 years of age. She is survived by her husband and three children, who have the sympathy of the community in their affliction. Word of Mrs. Hamill's demise has been sent to relatives at St. Paul, and when they have been heard from arrangements for the funeral will be announced.

The news of Mrs. Hamill's death came as a profound surprise and shock to her numerous friends, most of whom had not even known that she was ill. The Hamill residence was recently quarantined on account of the illness of one of the children with scarlet fever, and it was during this time that Mrs. Hamill scratched her finger with a needle. The injury was so slight and seemingly insignificant that it was not supposed that anything serious would result, and in fact the hand was apparently entirely healed, when a few days ago symptoms of blood poisoning developed. She rapidly became worse and on Wednesday Mrs. Hamill's condition was considered very precarious.

Mrs. Hamill was a member of the Hancock Methodist church and took a deep interest in its various activities and charitable and social work, and she will be greatly missed by her circle of friends and acquaintances.

LABOR SITUATION QUIET.

The labor situation in this section is very quiet just now, there being a cessation in the great demand for help which has prevailed during the past summer here on account of the numerous public improvements under way. The paving, sewer and water jobs are now practically suspended and most of the surface work at the various mines has been discontinued so that there are now many men available, according to a statement made by Leonard Meola of the Hancock employment agency. Until now snow comes there will be little doing in the woods, but just as soon as there is sufficient to begin operations the various camps will be opened and employment furnished for a considerable number.

EXPECT GREAT COAL STRIKE.

Operators Plan Reduction in April—Men Say 250,000 Will Fight.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—Although the working agreement between the bituminous coal operators and United Mine Workers of America does not expire until next April, the operators are already making preparations to force an issue upon the miners that may result in another great national conflict, in which, the miners assert, 250,000 miners will join.

The association of bituminous coal operators in central Pennsylvania has held several quiet meetings and discussed matters that are creating considerable uneasiness in the miners' camp. It has leaked out that many independent operators have attended these sessions and every effort is being made to strengthen the association to inaugurate a combined movement to reduce wages next spring. The operators claim that there is an insufficient margin of profit for them at the present market price of coal, for which they are compelled to pay sixty-six cents a ton for mining, and they demand that the miners accept a "reasonable" reduction.

On their part the miners are resolutely setting their faces against any reduction in wages. They claim that, owing to the slackness of work and present low wages, they are barely able to make a living for themselves and families, and that they will go to the finish before they permit themselves to be pressed over the border line and into starvation and abject poverty.

Some of the Hancock teachers took advantage today of the extra holiday to visit the Calumet and Houghton schools, where sessions are being held today. The Boston school also held sessions as usual.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED LAST EVENING

A pretty wedding occurred last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton of Pewabic, when their son, F. H. Ashton, of Calumet, and Miss Edna Ethier, also of Calumet, were united in marriage. Rev. M. H. Eldred, pastor of the Pewabic M. E. church, officiated. The bride was Miss Lottie Fetterly of Calumet, and the best man J. L. Ingersoll, also of Calumet. The bride was attired in a soft grey material, trimmed with lace, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and smilax. A similar bouquet was carried by the bridesmaid, who was attired in a tan colored material, cut Princess style. The parlor and dining room was beautifully decorated with carnations and smilax.

About eighty guests were present, including the employees of the Tamarack Co-operative society, where the groom is employed. A special street car was commissioned for the use of the Tamarack store employees, bringing the party home again after the wedding. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, the full ring service of the Methodist church being used.

There were many beautiful and costly gifts. They will make their home in Laurium.

FINED FOR THEFT OF FURS.

William Kemp, of Chicago, was arrested in Hancock this morning, and brought before Justice Oliver, charged with the theft of some furs from a Houghton woman. The defendant was found with the goods, but he said he did not intend to keep them. The man has been engaged on the paving job in Hancock, coming to this city from Chicago. He was fined $5 and costs.

HANCOCK BREVITIES.

Harry Cannon, formerly proprietor of the Board of Trade Cafe in Houghton, called on Hancock friends yesterday. Mr. Cannon went west several years ago, going to Alaska and Portland, Ore., where he prospered and decided to return here for a visit. He arrived last Tuesday.

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McAskill.

Edward L. Field, a mining engineer from Grass Valley, California, is in the city for a few days on business. J. H. Jansberg has purchased an "arctic sleigh," the first of its kind seen in the copper country. It being a sample received at the Kerredge hardware store from a manufacturing firm. The peculiar feature of the sleigh is the high back, beyond which the runners extend about eighteen inches, or thereabouts, on which a person stands, the same as on a sledge, and propels the vehicle with the foot. The seat is shaped like a snowshoe and is laced with ropes, forming a sort of net on which the rider sits.

CUPID'S AIDE A HUMAN TORCH.

LITTLE HELEN KIRTLAND.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 25.—She was just a little mite, was pretty Helen Kirtland and she was the pride of the twin cities of Marinette and Menominee. At the recent society wedding, the Gennet-Porter society event of the season, this little wee girl was the flower bearer. She captivated all the guests and she was loved more, well, more than the happy bride. Just the other day little Helen went up to the attic of her home to play house. Her mother was sewing a mid-day luncheon and little Helen was toying with the blocks and dreaming of the day she would be a happy bride. Of course she had to have a fire in the grate of her toy house. She found the matches down stairs in the safe and she raced back to kindle the flame. Then the big fire started and before her father I. B. Kirtland, a prominent attorney, could reach her she was a mass of burns and just a little while afterward she was carried away to the fairies of whom she had been dreaming.

Compulsory insurance in Germany has had a distinct effect upon the medical profession. Many people cannot choose medical advisers at will. Physicians are engaged by the officials of insurance organizations on fixed contract terms, which are usually far below the minimum rate fixed by law for medical services. The old-time relations between physicians and those engaging their services, relations of mutual confidence and respect, are given away to a purely business connection, in which the personal equation is of diminishing importance. There is keen competition to secure the posts of medical officers of the different insurance funds, and those who secure them may be tempted, on account of the very low scale of fees, to render perfunctory and inadequate service. The stimulus of doing his best to win the confidence of each patient, as well as his family and friends, is no longer felt. On the part of some of the insured it is alleged there is a tendency to abuse their ability to command the services of a doctor to an almost unlimited extent and to summon him at any hour of the day or night on the slightest pretext.—Washington Herald.

ODD FELLOWS WILL OBSERVE
THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Committeemen of the Lake Linden lodge of Odd Fellows are preparing a program for next Monday evening when the 35th anniversary of the institution of the lodge will be observed. The lodge has had a successful career, also an eventful one as a portion of its existence has been of such a nature as to make its struggle for life a hard one. Nevertheless it conquered and the anniversary will be observed here next Monday evening when a program by good local talent will be rendered.

The committee looking after the work has reported progress in every respect and the members of the three link organization and their friends anticipate one of the best anniversaries ever held under their auspices. The program will consist of recitations, readings, songs and short but interesting talks on the good of the organization.

The numbers of the program have not been completed for publication. A large number of tickets have been sold in advance and there promises to be a good sized crowd present.

The hall was filled with friends of the firemen and according to reports all had a good time. The Hubbell band played a lengthy program of dance numbers and all were well pleased. The fire fighters served luncheon.

The Thanksgiving dance given by the Lake Linden band, its first annual social affair, held Thursday night, was one of the most successful of the season.
